HOW TO BUILD TRUSTING RELATIONSHIPS WITH YOUR STUDENTS

Practical techniques to create professional relationships where trust flourishes

20TH JULY 2021 - 7-8PM

COURSE OVERVIEW

All relationships are based on trust, but as we all know, trust can be hard to build and quick to break. On this practical course you will learn tried-and-tested tools and communication techniques to help you build open and trusting professional relationships with your students.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

At the end of this training, you will:

- Appreciate the importance of trust in creating productive working relationships
- Identify the behaviours that build trusting relationships
- Apply six simple tools to your relationships with your student that will increase trust, leading to greater engagement and performance
- Use the learning from the workshop to create a work environment where trust flourishes

TRAINING PATHWAY

- There will be a small amount of pre-work
- The training will be interactive with participation involving case-studies and real-life scenarios
- A post-training learning resource will be circulated to you after the training.
